Great Books & Videos from TBR for You & Your Loved Ones

NEW! Hitler and the Power of Aesthetics by Frederic Spotts. 456 pages of text and photographs detailing the interests of Adolf Hitler in Western art and his application of art to politics. Spotts portrays the National Socialist revolution as more cultural than political. He shows that Hitler viewed himself first and foremost as an artist. Hundreds of photographs including Hitler's "doodles." His involvement in music, architecture, sculpture, literature, not to mention science, aeronautics, chemistry and everything else, display a mind unsurpassed by anyone before or since. Did this man plan to ennoble humanity or to conquer the world—or both? Item #377, 456 pages, hardback, $37.50.

NEW! The Controversy of Zion by Douglas Reed with a Preface by Ivor Benson. A new edition of this well-known author's famous book—a book that got this very popular author blacklisted by almost every major publishing house in the world. Candidly discusses the long tentacles of Zionism and its ill effects upon the peoples of the world. Item # 375, 587 pages, softcover, $22.50.

NEW! The Rudolf Report by Germar Rudolf. A follow-up to the Leuchter Report about alleged gas chambers at Auschwitz plus additional corrections and clarifications. The author had to flee Germany because of his publishing work. Item #378, 455 pages, softcover, $30.

NEW! Concentration Camp Stutthof by Juergen Graf and Carlo Mattogno. New, important discoveries. The authors, Revisionist historians, lay to rest the allegations concerning this camp. Meticulously researched they prove that it was not an extermination camp at all. Item #379, 122 pages, softcover, $15.

NEW! Concentration Camp Majdanek by Juergen Graf and Carlo Mattogno. New blockbuster. Historical/ technical study with on-site physical research in addition to primary sources that disprove allegations that the camp was used as an extermination center. Item #380, 326 pages, softcover, $25.

NEW! Hidden Agenda: How the Duke of Windsor Betrayed the Allies by Martin Allen. The Nazi sympathies of the Duke of Windsor have long been common knowledge but, until now, few have suspected that his wartime activities amounted to treason. His intelligence gathering activities are described. Item #381, 312 pages, hardback, $22.

The Third Rome: Holy Russia, Tsarism and Orthodoxy by Dr. M. Raphael Johnson, editor of THE BARNES REVIEW—Academic historians, liberals and communists have been fashioning a fantasy world around Russian history for nearly 100 years, spreading slander and myth about an entire population. Few nations, rulers or peoples have been subject to such merciless attacks as the Russians have. Now, however, all of that has changed. Here's the first book in English that sets out to defend the history of Tsarist Russia from St. Vladimir to Tsar St. Nicholas II—Russia before bloody Bolshevism. #368, quality softcover, 246 pages, $24.95.

Truth for Germany by Udo Walendy, subtitled The Guilt Question of the Second World War. It exposes allied intentions toward the German people before the outbreak of the war. Softcover version, 530 pages, Item #1, $20. Hardback version, Item #1a, $28.

The Black Book of Communism. A team of French historians chronicles the ruthless crimes of communism everywhere it attained power. Item #235, 1,120 pages, hardback, $37.50.

From Ray & Josephine Cowdery

GERMAN PRINT ADVERTISING Covering 1933 to 1945

The only reference book of its type, German Print Advertising is an amazing time capsule of the Third Reich era in Germany. More than 400 illustrations, 100 in full color! Any open-minded person with an interest in real history will enjoy German Print Advertising. It immerses the reader in a time long gone and stuns them with the bold, trend-setting graphics created by Third Reich artists and advertisers. #390, quality oversized hardcover, 176 pages, $39.95.

No Bone Unturned: The Legal Battle for America's Oldest Skeletons

Investigative journalist Jeff Benedict not only unveils a compelling portrait of the man behind America's most notorious case of historical suppression but also gives a fascinating look inside the world of forensic science as seen through the eyes of a leading specialist, the Smithsonian's Doug Owsley. A curator for the Smithsonian's Museum of Natural History, Owsley has handled over 10,000 skeletons. And that included the infamous Kennewick Man, a 9,800-year-old skeleton found in shallow water along Washington state's Columbia River. Just days before Owsley was to begin studying the Kennewick skeleton, federal authorities seized it and announced it would be repatriated to the Native American tribes who claimed it as their own. For six years Owsley fought a legal and politically charged battle that put everything at risk—jeopardizing his career and his reputation. Here is his story and the story of some of America's oldest skeletons—skeletons that are forcing the court historians to amend their "cut and dried" theories of ancient man and the peopling of the Americas. #387, hardback, 304 pages, $25.95.

Stalin's War of Extermination: 1941–1945 by Joachim Hoffman. Stalin's plans to conquer Europe prior to Hitler's pre-emptive strike in Operation Barbarossa. Item #282, 415 pages, hardback $39.95.

Lost Civilizations of the Stone Age by Richard Rudgley, an Oxford trained scholar specializing in Paleolithic man. A real eye-opener: turns out our cave-dwelling ancestors performed medical operation and created art with techniques not seen again until the Renaissance. Item #334, 310 pages, softcover, $15. Lincoln Rockwell, a life examined by not overly friendly author William. H. Schmalz. Entitled HATE it covers Rockwell's years as leader of the American Nazi Party and those men who had tied themselves politically to him. An informative book of those times. Item #366, 388 pages, softcover $17.95.

The Oxford History of Medieval Europe by George Holmes. The book covers 1,000 years of history, giving detailed information about the creation of Western Civilization. Item #340, 392 pages $17.

Blowback—The Costs and Consequences of American Empire by Chalmers Johnson. American foreign policies, its global scale and desire to control other countries. Item #331, 268 pages, softcover, $15.

Hitler's Table Talk, 1941-1944. Although it has a very biased preface by Hugh Trevor Roper, the book should be in everyone's bookcase. Hitler's words, taken down verbatim on Bormann's insistence, stand on their own. Item #333, 748 pages, hardback, $32.

Hitler's Jewish Soldiers by Bryan Mark Rigg. The author, no friend of the Third Reich, concludes that 150,000 German soldiers who fought in WW2 were partly Jewish. Many photos of these soldiers and officers, a most unique book. Item #330, 443 pages, hardback, $29.95.

A Military History of the Western World by Maj. Gen. J.C. Fuller. This classic, never out of print, gives a detailed account of early historically important battles up through WWII. The 3 volume set contains 1,828 pages of history, from the battle of Herman (Arminius) in the Teutoburger Forest against Roman domination of northern Europe to the battle of Leyte Gulf. Item #362d, softcover, 3 volumes, $52.

The Day Dixie Died: The Occupied South 1865-1866 by Thomas and Debra Goodrich. The authors trace the death, destruction, crime, starvation and anarchy of that period. Item #273, 320 pages, hardback, $26.95.

The End of Days: Fundamentalism and The Struggle for the Temple Mount by Gershom Gorenberg. The cultural and historical insanity that has been spawned by Christian, Jewish and Muslim fundamentalism is the topic of this thoughtful and prescient work. Item #359, 275 pages, softcover, $16

MORE RARE FINDS FOR YOUR ENJOYMENT FROM TBR BOOK CLUB

The House of Rothschild by Niall Ferguson. The author, an Oxford scholar, reveals for the first time the secrets of the economic success of the Rothschild family, from 1798 to 1999. 2-volume set, over 1,000 pages total, Item #361c, quality softcovers, $37.95 per set.

The New German Reichschancellery. Publishers Ray and Josephine Cowdrey have done a magnificent job presenting the history, purpose and eventual fate of Hitler’s famous Third Reich edifice. Many photos, illustrations, maps and drawings, fold-out floor plan, etc. The best book ever printed on the subject. Item #364, hardback, 8.5 x 11, 125 pages, $39.95.

Dissecting the Holocaust: The Growing Critique of Truth and Memory. Daring scientist Germar Rudolf has compiled the works of the world’s foremost Holocaust Revisionists into one amazing reference source. The result of 10 years of labor, this book is the final word—from a scientific perspective—on the Holocaust. Rudolf was banished from Germany for publishing this scholarly work and now lives on the run from German thought police. Item #219, softcover, 8.5 x 11, 620 pages, $29.95.

Tragedy and Hope by Carroll Quigley. This famous history of the world in our time, first published in 1966, immediately became an object of suppression. The author, a history professor, exposes the secret world of government. The Council of Foreign Relations tried to stop publication. Now reprinted in a handsome edition. #37, hardback, 1,348 pgs., $40.

Antichrist: Twelve Timely Essays. Most of Father Charles Coughlin’s essays were for all patriots of all nations, not only Catholics. Cognizant of how money power and political Zionism impacted on the well-being of humanity, his warnings of what the future would hold are even more poignant today than when he was the bane of FDR and Stalin. #41, softcover, 80 pgs., $10.

VIDEO SELECTIONS

Firestorm Over Dresden is an account of the firebombing of Dresden from eyewitnesses who somehow escaped the most dastardly and cowardly attack on a civilian population ever perpetrated. Historian David Irving combines these interviews with archival pre-war film footage and information from Winston Churchill’s private diaries to help explain the event of terror. #90, VHS, 77 minutes, $29.95.

Triumph of the Will, Germany, 1934—Still banned in Germany, this extraordinary blend of art, directing and cinematography by the famous Leni Riefenstahl is a marvel one won’t come across again. The subject of the film is the 1934 session of the Nazi Party congress at Nuremberg. Awe-inspiring in its dimension, it is a “must see.” English subtitles. A printed translation of the speeches is also included as an extra bonus. #115, VHS, 115 minutes, $29.95.

The Wonderful, Horrible Life of Leni Riefenstahl—The title of this video is quite misleading. Leni, 90 years old when she collaborated with the film makers, had a wonderful life until 1945. After the war she was persecuted, prosecuted and damned in general by the media. Because she had made wonderful,

The Hoax of the 20th Century

First published in 1976, Arthur Butz’s The Hoax of the Twentieth Century is back. Slightly revised and enhanced, this seminal Revisionist work is the epitome of Holocaust Revisionism and the most widely read book on the subject. Its subtitle is “The Case Against the Presumed Extermination of European Jewry.” In 502 pages of penetrating study and lucid commentary. Dr. Butz gives the reader a graduate course on the subject. Butz concludes that the Jewish population of Europe was never the target of a Hitler-approved plot to exterminate them. This is a book you must have if you want a clear picture of the scope and magnitude of the historical cover-up of our age, who is behind it and what can be done to put an end to it. #385, softcover, 502 pages, $25.

stirring documentaries in Germany at the request of Hitler, she became a pariah later. The video shows us that she was a feisty, opinionated woman. We learn of her early years as an actress, who soon discovered her true talent to be the eye behind the camera. It is a compelling tale, much information that is new; a historic record of the best female movie director in the world. German language, English subtitles and narrator. #237, two tapes, 180 minutes, $39.95.

EPIC: The Story of the Waffen SS—Narrated by the legendary hero of the Waffen SS, General Leon Degrelle, the video gives a complete historical background leading up to WWII. This is the story of the incredible and almost unknown (in the U.S.) all-volunteer-fighting force. We learn how and why it was started, the non-German, European men who joined this elite army of 1 million volunteers to fight communism and its many victories won against stiff odds. A documentary that will enlighten and astound you. English voice-over. Item #117, VHS color, 90 minutes, $22.95.

The Eye of the Third Reich—The subject of this film, Walter Frentz, was a personal cameraman for Adolf Hitler. This story has been woven with interviews with Frentz, excerpts from Frentz’s diary and many samplings of his work. Views of Hitler, military sites, his personal visitors and the inner circle at the Reichschancellery. See the Fuehrer’s headquarters and unique footage of a party in Hitler’s bomb shelter. A great documentary with excellent photography. English voice-over. Item #93, VHS, 91 minutes, $29.95.

The Mystery of the First American: The Saga of the Kennewick Man—Just who made it to America first? The answer may surprise you. This video explores the discovery of the 9,000-year-old Kennewick Man skeleton and the implications of this find on the accepted theories of the populating of the Americas. The skeleton, you see, is that of a male of an ancient Caucasoid race. Also details American Indian and Establishment efforts—with the help of President Bill Clinton—to bury the find under tons of rubble—in essence, to hide the truth about the origins of the first Americans. Item #243, VHS, 100 minutes, $20.95.
